

ReFriend

A few years ago, someone de-friended me on a social network (FB), and today they sent me a friend request. Why?

Why was I de-friended years ago?

Why should I accept the new friend request?

Maybe I am being petty or maybe I just don't forget things, but the net result is I was (a) hurt by the defriending and (b) have not forgiven it; as such I've not (yet) accepted the new friend request.

It's troublesome how people can be.
