

Someone showed up at my house

I was in the middle of moving a new refrigerator into my house, specifically through an internal doorway which required removal of its doors. During this exercise someone walked up to my house saying something about a stray dog outside. I quickly said hi, I said something about not wanting the cat to get out (which was locked up in the bathroom), closed the door and went back inside. I then a moment or two later returned outside. They came up to me and gave me a hug and said “sorry” (assumably about Angel), I said something about “come back later” and they said they were “busy”, and with that left.

I reached out to them later via text, saying I was available now and never got a reply, let alone a return visit.

Very odd.
